KING JESUS - PALM SUNDAY - MATTHEW 21:1-11

Receiving the Message and Relating to the Study

What insights, principles, or observations stood out to you from this week's message? Discuss with your group.

In Matthew 21:1-11 we read about Christ riding into Jerusalem on a donkey. Christ sent two disciples to get the donkey. He told them exactly what would happen when they untied the donkey. He said that the owner would give them permission to take the donkey. During the time of Christ, it was common for a king to ride into a city on a beautiful horse. Here we see that Christ rode into Jerusalem on a colt that had never been ridden before. Normally an animal that has never been ridden before is very difficult to control. Here we see that his donkey submitted to Christ and did not act like a donkey that had never been ridden. This is exactly 1 Week from His Resurrection. As He enters the city, it is the culmination of His long Journey to Golgotha, the Cross. Jesus came from heaven, to Save the Lost (Lk. 19:10) and now was the Time, and this was the Place, to secure that Salvation. This is the beginning of what is called "Passion Week," the final 7 Days of Jesus earthly ministry. Palm Sunday is the beginning of the End of Jesus work on earth. Let's get into our study...

As your group time begins, use this section to introduce the topic of discussion:

- 1. What struck you or stood out to you from this week's sermon?
- 2. Who do you think is the most well-known person to ever come out of your city? What would it be like if that person showed up in your community or your house one day?
- 3. How does Jesus compare in power, fame, and prestige to any celebrity or hero we could think of today? By worldly standards and expectations, how should His grand entrance into Jerusalem have compared as a result?

By the very nature of Jesus' triumphal entry—choosing to arrive on a humble donkey, rather than a powerful war horse—Jesus fulfilled prophecies, but even more importantly, He revealed the nature of His mission. He had come to save—not by usurping power and bringing with Him a military coup, but by surrendering power and embracing His own death. Jesus' unmatched power triumphed through weakness, and ours will do the same when we take up our cross and follow Him. As we humble ourselves, repent and admit our need for a Savior, we embrace the humility needed to identify with Christ, share in His sufferings and follow Him with our very lives.

Digging Deeper in God's Word: Life Lessons

1. What was the significance of the city of Jerusalem in Israel's spiritual and political life?

Jerusalem is the city of a great king, and it was the center of Israel's spiritual and national life. King David ruled in Jerusalem and made plans to establish the temple there. All of the Gospels make a point to emphasize Jesus' journey to Jerusalem in some way. In Matthew's Gospel it is the ascent to the climax. When Jesus entered the city, He was not coming as a visitor to celebrate Passover, but as a King who was coming to claim His rightful authority as the true and better center of Israel's life.

- 2. What directions did Jesus give His disciples in verses 2-3? What authority and power does Jesus reveal in these words?
- 3. What does the term "Lord" teach us about how Jesus saw Himself and how His disciples received His directions?

Jesus clearly envisioned that the disciples and the owners of these animals would take His directions and obey them. Jesus took charge and asserted His authority. He knew where these animals were and knew that the owner would give them to the disciples. He intentionally chose these animals; it was not for lack of options. Jesus wanted His entry into Jerusalem to take place exactly according to His plan. The use of the term "Lord" is one of authority. Jesus was one in the same with God and was coming to rescue His people. Such a self-reference reveals what Jesus understood His purpose to be as He entered the gates of Jerusalem.

- 1. Matthew cited from Zechariah 9:9 to support what occurred in verses 1-3. What does Jesus' fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy reveal about Him?
- 2. Read 2 Corinthians 1:20. What light does Paul shed on Jesus' prophetic fulfillment?

Zechariah's prophecy says, "Look, your king is coming to you." Only the king Israel had been waiting for could fulfill this prophecy. That makes the attention Jesus gave to preparation all the more important. He wanted to communicate to everyone in Jerusalem, "I am the king you have been waiting for." This is one of many prophecies Jesus fulfilled during His earthly ministry. As Paul noted, all of the Old Testament reaches its conclusion and fulfillment in Jesus.

3. What statement did Jesus make by riding into Jerusalem on a young donkey? What did it reveal about His nature and purpose on earth? How did that separate Him from other rulers?

A political or military leader would typically ride a war horse into town to celebrate a victory. It was only during times of peace that such a king would ride a donkey. In coming this way, "gentle, and mounted on a donkey," Jesus was saying that He came to bring peace. The peace He brought would come at the expense of His life; yet through His death, Jesus' followers would gain access to the shalom that Jesus brings.

HAVE A VOLUNTEER READ MATTHEW 21:6-11.

- How did the crowd receive King Jesus?
- 2. Read Psalm 118:25-26. What was the purpose of this psalm? Why is it fitting to use on this occasion?
- 3. The cry "Hosanna" means, "save us or save now." Yet at the end of the week, the crowd would be yelling something entirely different. What does this teach us about the fickle nature of our own hearts?

Both the actions of the crowd and their announcement was indicative of Jesus' status as the Jewish Savior. Psalm 118 was a psalm of ascent, which would be sung on ascent to the highest point in Jerusalem, the temple mount where Jesus was headed. Here we see further affirmation and clarification of Jesus' identity. Though at this point, Jerusalem seemed poised to welcome and receive her king, they would quickly turn on Jesus. Many of the same people crying "Hosanna!" would soon be shouting, "Crucify Him!" The tide began to turn in the next few verses.

4. What was behind the people's question in verse 10? How do you know? How can we see the change in the temperature of the city already happening?

In the same way the whole city was shaken when Jesus was born thanks to Herod's rage (Matt. 2:3), the city of Jerusalem was shaken here. The question in verse 10 is more of a, "Who does He think He is?" question, rather than a harmless curiosity. The religious leaders looked at Jesus and saw Him as someone who needed to be eliminated, and their plans were about to come together. But no person could stop the plan of God.

Applying God's Word

What did you learn from this study and how does this personally speak to you? Discuss with your group.

The Triumphal Entry is one of contrasts, and those contrasts contain applications for our hearts. It is the Story of a Lowly Servant on a donkey, not a prancing stallion. Not in Royal Robes but the clothing of the Poor and Humble. Jesus Christ has not come to Conquer you by Force, but to Win you by Love, Grace and Mercy and a sacrifice for His people. He is come not to conquer armies but to conquer Hearts and Minds. His message is one of Peace with God. When Jesus makes a Triumphal Entry into your heart, He reigns there in Love and Peace and Joy.

- 1. All the details we see in today's verses, along with the rest of Scripture, are meant to show us who Jesus is. Do you receive and respond to the Jesus who is, or a Jesus of your own making? Explain.
- 2. What are the implications of Jesus being King of this small group? How will we respond corporately to His kingship?
- 3. All people are actively making a choice: accept Jesus as King or reject Him. What does the response of the crowd teach us about the people we encounter every day? How can we live in a way that shows we believe Jesus is the true King?

PRAYER - Give thanks to King Jesus. Proclaim His ability to save, and confess your allegiance to Him as Lord of your life. Pray for this coming Good Friday and Easter service that many will hear and respond to the Gospel.

"If you had known, even you, especially in this your day, the things that make for your peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes. For days will come upon you when your enemies will build an embankment around you, surround you and close you in on every side, and level you, and your children within you, to the ground; and they will not leave in you one stone upon another, because you did not know the time of your visitation." Luke 19:42-44
